RENEWABLE ENERGY FOR ALL

Our mission is to empower property owners to take back the power for you and your home by achieving energy independence, reducing utility costs and ensuring reliable power when you need it.

Residential & Commercial

“Giving the power back to you and your home”

Solar Pool Heating

Adding a pool to your home is one of the best ways to bring your family and friends together. The investment you place in building it shouldn't be met with the exasperating costs of heating with gas or electric, which can come to hundreds of dollars a month.

Freedom For All

With Solar Pool Heating extend swimming season, cut utility bills, take advantage of tax benefits and become energy independent!

Using the power of the sun, Freedom Solar Energy here in southern California, provides a solution for free heating all year long! You save hundreds of dollars by circulating the pools water through solar panels routinely giving you warm temperatures all year long, allowing you to spend countless hours enjoying the investment in your pool.

Spending more quality time with your family and friends, pool solar heating has minimal maintenance, and pays for itself from the money you save on fuel.

Energy Independence

Solar electric systems reduce electricity bills, decrease dependence on fossil fuels, and provide a sustainable energy source that lowers carbon emissions and enhances energy independence.

Solar Electric

With the rising increase of utility rates and exchanges, solar electric provides the most natural and cost effective way to produce your own electrical needs. With the main goal of becoming your own energy provider, Freedom Solar Energy in southern California is here to help!

We install the best products with the highest efficiency at fair costs with exceptional financing to allow you a quick return on your investment. With a 25-year warranty and 5-7 year return on your investment, solar electric allows you 2-3 times the internal return, zeroing out your bill and making you your own electrical provider. The power is yours!

Battery Integration

Solar homeowners everywhere are experiencing pushback from utility companies as they attempt to create Net Energy Metering and impose adjusted pricing for those producing their own power. Tier rates are minimized, base line structures are raised, and the goal is to charge for any energy that is consumed whenever your solar electric system is not producing.

Good news is there's another way for you to save! As the gap between solar producers and utility companies widens, the enmity created a way for new technology. Make way for solar storage systems!

Own Your Power

Battery backup systems provide reliable power during outages, ensuring uninterrupted operation of essential devices and protecting sensitive equipment from damage.
